RESEARCH INTERESTS

Research interest: Since 2021, I have been building a theme-based research portfolio on interactive finance decisions linking three agents: entrepreneurs, the bank, and households.

PUBLICATIONS

WORKING PAPERS AND WORK-IN-PROGRESS

- WP[5] Self-Healing Loan maintenance: 2025 updates [\[SSRN link\]](#)
  - I identify an endogenous bank growth model: a self-healing maintenance. The core element of the bank's growth is that profits from good loans drive bank growth. My model can predict long-term loan growth, bank liquidity shortages, or bank capital damage, which causes households to panic.
- WP[6] A Win-Win Loan Contract in Profit Uncertainty: with Zhanbing Xiao, 2025 updates [\[SSRN link\]](#)
  - We develop a win-win contract relationship to explain liquidity management decisions of entrepreneurs and loan decisions of the bank. Our model can explain why a company has access to credit lines, term loans, or convertible debt, whereas others don't. Credit line drawdowns discovered a demand-side story during the Great Recession.
- WP[7]Great Recession and Systemically Important Banks: with Jitao Ou, 2025 updates SSRN link
  - We identify a new mechanism that compromises financial stability during the 2008 crisis. The Great Recession reduced good new loans. Large banks are forced to purchase bad loans at deep discounts.
- Reserve, Risk-Tolerance, and Fund Flows: with Woon Sau Leung, revision expected 2026.

- We establish the role of cash reserves in household investment decisions. Reserves allow households to tolerate low returns without withdrawing their investments. Our model can explain why there are more fund inflows to mutual funds with higher returns and volatility.
- On the Choices of Lifestyle and Growth: work-in-progress, revision expected 2026
  - I model household choices between upgrading lifestyle and growing wealth. Self-disciplined, regular, self-indulgent households have heterogeneous exchange factors in switching from luxury lifestyle upgrades to wealth growth. My model has three empirical implications.
